“ Dozia was my favorite cousin in Philadelphia, my home town, while growing up. He was like the big brother I never had. He was a great dancer, a good painter and draftsman. He could have been a great artist in my opinion. He was a jazz aficionado with a vintage collection to die for. A Viet Nam vet who was never the same after he returned. He worked for the city for many years and was badly injured at work. He was loved. He will be missed.
