“ I did not know Heriberto nor your family but read about this tragic event on the internet. I was struck by how much love he was surrounded by with the many people trying to help him on the beach and at the hospital when his family could be with him in his last days. I hope you are comforted over time by the surely many wonderful memories you have of Heriberto.

Thank you. We do have many wonderful memories. And yes thanks to all the wonderful people that God send to help and comfort him and his children during that horrible day. God took him from us and HE know why.

Yes, my daughter and I have so many memories. Funny, sad, happy memories, videos and pics. He was very loving, kind, humble, took the shirt off his back for anyone and very unique in his own way. He will definitely be missed by my daughter, son whom he raised and I. So heartbroken beyond words. But I know he's in a better place with our Lord Jesus.

“ I read about Heriberto on the internet. I did not know him nor your family but I am so sad for your loss. My sincerest sympathies. Just know that he was surrounded by love from so many helpful strangers and his family in the last days at the hospital. This is surely tragic and I hope you will be comforted in your many wonderful memories of Heriberto.
