“ Jason I'm going to miss you so much. I wish I could still hug you. You were my first born. Me and you spent three years together before your brother and sister arrived. We have had so much fun when me and you would go to the mall and you would do your imitation of people. But this year was a ruff one. I could not see your face when I called to you. I wish I could have done more. You should be bury me. Not me bury you. I love you my baby boy. I will miss you forever.

“ Jason you will always be remembered for the kind person you were and the way you always showed me respect. We were turned away by your brother today when we asked to sit in the last pew, but I know you would have welcomed us with both arms.

You showed up to a funeral against the wishes of the family. After it was posted "family only" and relayed to Sandy through text message that it was family only.. not to mention it is during a damn pandemic. Then after being politely told at the door that it's family only you still tried to walk around everyone to get into the funeral. If you're gonna post about it then tell the WHOLE story.
