“ It was a nice graveside ceremony today, with friends and family sharing stories of Uncle Bud's past. The Marine Corp Staff Sargent's did a great job with crisp facing movements, and then professionally presented the American Flag to the family. We joked that we did not know Robert, as we always called him Uncle Bud! Rose, thank for reading the bible verses, and for helping take care of Uncle Bud in his later years! Tony, you are a true gentleman and went above and beyond in your care for Uncle Bud!

As stories were told, we all agreed that Uncle Bud was head strong and set in his ways! He was certainly a “Stubborn Noell”, as we all have some of those head strong traits in us! After the service, we discussed how he loved professional sports and his support of Philadelphia teams!

It had been too long, since I last saw my cousins and their families, but the conversation was comfortable and caring. This only happens from spending many hours spent together at one of the Noell / Corbett birthday parties! Uncle Bud was always middle of those parties and part of the chaos!

We all had masks on and did our best to social distance to protect from the Covid 19 virus, but were able to pay our respects! Rest in Peace, Uncle Bud!

“ I knew Robert "Bud", through visits from our hospice. He was quiet and listened. He would tell you when your visit was over. I know he lived for Baseball and the Sunday paper. He was highly intelligent and read about WWII. He was a Marine and we both, Sister Claire, and I, thank him for his service. God rest you Robert.

“ Bud, although it took a year for you to accept medical care coming in to care for you, we hope it helped make you last couple of years a little better. Will always think of you when we see a Tootsie Roll pop.
RIP

“ Bud, All the help the whole family tried to give you over the years was never accepted or enough. You were an unhappy and confused man. I hope you will now find comfort in joining your parents, sister, and brother..... and rest in peace.
Your Sister-in-law, Connie Noell
