“ I just woke up this morning from a dream and you was in it..I was so surprised to see you in my dream I have t seen you since our times as children in Streamside camp. You were one of the only friends I made out there being from NY and mostly everyone from Philadelphia. I can't believe you passed away. The only thing that comforts me right now is knowing that you loved a fun filled life and always remained true to yourself. I was able to look through your family and friends thoughts and pictures and see you were truly an angel on earth and gone too soon. Idk why I saw you in my dream and its meaning but I hope it's good energy you sending me. R.I.P. Reena

“ I miss you so much, damn it. When i discovered you had already gone to heaven, I cried alot.....Just writing this is making me cry now, and I don't cry for ANYONE. I miss you so damn much. Stationed in Qatar was the best thing to ever happen to me, because I got to be friends with you....Our plan was to go to New York together, but we never go to.....I remember the day I left Qatar, i went to your room at 4am and kissed you on the forehead, and told you goodbye. I had no idea that would be the last time on Earth that I would see you. Sometimes I hate this world and wonder why god takes the best people, and my stupid ass is still here.....I love and miss you, and you will always live in my heart.....Love, Scott (a.k.a. Your Hammy).

“ My heart didn't make it here until yesterday when I thought of you and something told me to Google your name... that's when I saw it, my heart suddenly broke in two to know that one of most kind, funny individuals I had ever known had left us. I met you sometime in 2008 I believe while deployed in Qatar. Man were like the 3 musketeers lol. We spent that following spring break meeting up in Atlanta and having the time of our lives. I'll forever miss you old friend, you were loved by many. 💔💔💔💔

“ Shareena worked with me and we became pretty good friends. She is a straight up clown and always had something witty to say. This moment right here hurts. The world lost a good one. I remember when she got her bike she was so happy she drove it to work. She seemed to love all aspects of life and love. She has always been an inspiration to keep on pushing toward happiness. Mom my prayers are all yours. Much love!

“ Shareena had a light and energy well beyond her years. I checked in with her every so often and each time her positive attitude never wavered. We joked about her having superpowers and at times her senses were very much on point:) My heart is heavy but I know she wouldn't want us to be sad. I was truly blessed to have her as a friend and will miss our debates on life's challenges and every topic imaginable. Heaven has received a unique angel. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.

“ Reena will always be near and dear to my heart! We meet in England in 2004 and we've been friends ever since... She LOVED my cooking...her favorite was my southern baked Mac & cheese..Me and another one of her close friends went to her beloved hometown late last yr..she was happy....in pain but I never saw it in her smile. I'm honored that i had the opportunity to meet her...she lives on in everyone she ever encountered, for the love she exuded was indeed contagious. I LOVE YOU REENA!!!! Rest in love baby girl....
