I do miss both of my parents very much and I probably always will. I hope to move back to Philly within about 1 year. I am trying to reconnect with my sister Linda and my sister Beth. I cannot find their phone numbers anywhere although I spoke with Linda a couple of months ago probably and she told me she loved me which no one ever says. If anyone can provide phone numbers for Linda and or Beth please do so. I also may get in touch with my cousins Marian and maybe Danny. Life is for the living. We are all on this Earth for virtual time and we need to make the best of that time that we can physically mentally. I am working once again after about 7 years. I became homeless and I lost the previous apartment that I lived in in Washington DC. Now I live in a place that is much less desirable. If anyone can provide more light on my time with them please do. Thank you.

Mom and dad,

I spoke to an old friend of mine from my first job at Humphries. He told me he loved me, and you two were the only other people in my life who have ever told me that. Linda said it once. I still miss you both. I used to call you from overseas to tell you how my travels were going and how my hotel was. I did in her diabetes from probably mom although both of you had it. It has caused me a lot of problems, but I am safe. If Linda or Beth see this post, please reply. I do hope to visit Philadelphia in the spring to see Dave and it would be good to see my sister's too.

*I will always miss Mom and Dad. They were the only ones who said I love you other than my friend Dave Linda said it once. I would always call them when I travel overseas and tell them about the country I was in
Hopefully I remember even more about them
Diabetes affects the memory and my neurologist may have an opinion about that next month. When I got home from the rehab place last time I called Linda and cuz I tried to call Mom Dad and she said they're dead. Linda must have some resentment towards me I don't know why though. And Catholic and I believe in God
No one knows what happens when you die the body disintegrates and that's it. We will all die one day. The main thing is to be surrounded by people love you and not to be in pain
Bye again moment*

“ Most of my cousins on the Coia and Becker sides of the family did not know my mother well. She was a loving, caring, and giving person to my father and to my sisters and me.

Both she and my father left us too soon. I am truly heartbroken by this latest loss -- my mother's death.

The photo of my mom isn't the best one because she is partially hidden by my dad. Cousin Marian, please take it down.

I believe your mom, Sheila, is my cousin, her moms name was Rose, my mother, Betty, was her sister, I believe your grandparents were Rose and Harry Becker. I hope you receive this. Sending my deepest condolences for your loss.

Hi Sandi, Thank you for your condolences. Yes, I do remember you and Clint. I remember visiting you and your mom (my great aunt Betty) and seeing you both at her house back in the '70s.

I hope that you and your family are well. My parents died about 18 months apart in '15 and '16 and I miss them both terribly. My mom's sister Lois is still living in Las Vegas as far as I know you may be in touch with her.

It it would be nice to say hello. Regards, Tony Coia

Very strange but my timeline of my parents death is years off. It is extremely strange.

*Hi Sandi,
I loved my parents very much and I have trouble realizing that they are gone. Can you help me remember them?*

Thanks,

Tony

I ain't heard it type 2 diabetes from my mom. Although I miss both of my parents very much, and hopefully always will, having type 2 diabetes has slowed me down tremendously, cause me to stop working for years although I'm working now once again, and has given me painful diabetic neuropathy. Which I am still trying to treat. I hope to move back to Philly within the next year possibly. And look up my sister's Linda and Beth. For some reason I cannot seem to find their telephone numbers.
